JANESVILLE, THURSDAY, MARCH 20.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next,

as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, "having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, in the department known as arboriculture, and the adornment of schools and public grounds."

It is testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed, Done at the capital, in the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.

By the Governor: ERNEST G. TIMME, Secretary of State.

A REMEDY FOR AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION.

Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, has a resolution before the senate which seeks to remedy the present agricultural depression. In his speech on the question he said he proposed to aid the farmers in the inquiry as to the causes of the existing depression. It was a notorious and self-evident truth, he said, that the tariff, as it now stood, increased the farmers' expense account from 35 to 100 per cent on every implement of industry with which he toiled, and last year binding twice had been enhanced to 18 cents a pound by the tariff and twice trust. He declared that not only had there been no increase in the value of land for the last quarter of a century, but there had been an absolute loss of 33 per cent. If the improved farm lands of the United States were put to sale to-day, under the most favorable circumstances they would not, he said, on a general average realize more than two-thirds of what their value had been twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Voorhees' resolution was introduced for unopposed passage. He knows as well as any man in the United States that no resolution in the senate or anywhere else will increase the price of grain or enhance the value of farm lands. But that makes no matter with Mr. Voorhees. His motive is to excite the agricultural communities if he can, and make them believe that democratic legislation will give them abundance and make them happy.

He proposes five remedies—

1. Tariff reform.
2. A full supply of legal tender money.
3. The free coinage of silver.
4. The suppression by law of gambling in futures.
5. A liberal policy of pensions.

It may be said in answer to these five points that—

1. The republicans have framed a reform tariff bill which is especially favorable to farmers.
2. The "full supply of legal tender money" is a revival of the old greenback theory that the government can issue an unlimited amount of paper without basing the issue on anything which suggests a redemption.

3. If the coinage of twenty-five millions of silver a year will not relieve agricultural depression, can there any permanent good come out of the remedy Voorhees suggests?

4. The suppression of gambling in futures would be a good thing for the morals of the country, and the Gazette believes, for the producers of grain.

The pension policy of the government is now more liberal than that of any other government in the world, and is still growing more liberal, so that about one-third of the receipts of the government is paid to pensioners. It is difficult to see what influence a pension policy can have on the price of farm products.

It is very clear that Mr. Voorhees does not know anything of the price of the "implements of industry with which the farmer toils," for there never was a time under free trade when agricultural implements were as cheap and thoroughly well made as now. Every farmer in America who can remember anything of the "years before 1861" will refresh his memory with this fact. Then, again, does Mr. Voorhees remember a time when under "tariff reform" a farmer could buy cheaper household necessities than he can in 1890?

An exchange speaks about Governor Boies dealing out cold comfort to the hungry democrats in Iowa, by announcing that "he does not regard his election as a partisan victory, and that he recognizes his duty to act towards the people in a broad and liberal spirit. That the governor should come out so soon and mail such a cold notice on the door of the public art is disheartening to those who were expecting high feeding for a time." Governor Boies was a republican up to 1884, and he does not seem to have had time to get thoroughly trained in the democratic party, and has not much sympathy with clamoring and hungry democrats. He knows that there will never be another chance for a democratic governor of Iowa, and so he proposes to go slow and let the democrats go on hungering. This may seem cruel, but Governor Boies does not owe his election to the democrats of Iowa.

The supreme court decision overruling the decision of Judge Bennett in the Edgerton bill case shows that Bennett is not a very good lawyer. But the decision is not the supreme court decision that provides for the instruction of all children in the English language. The later Bennett law is a good law, and is going to stand.—Evening Wisconsin.

The attention of the Sentinel is called to the last sentence of the foregoing paragraph. The firmness of the Evening Wisconsin in standing by the Bennett law certainly should command the good wishes of the Sentinel. It is difficult to understand how harmony and strength can be brought about in Milwaukee by a newspaper war, especially when the Sentinel and the Evening Wisconsin stand firmly for the same law.

Well, Professor Wiggins has been prognosticating again about the weather. He predicts that we are going to have some bitter cold winters, and says: "We will soon have a repetition of our cold winters. Of course when the Rocky Mountains become worn down, which will require many thousand years yet, the snow caps on our planet's poles will not be larger than those of Mars; that is, they will extend no further south than Cape Farewell, the southern point of Greenland." There does not seem to be much occasion for the present generation to worry a great deal if it will take many thousands of years to bring about the cold winters.

THE NEW YORK BOODLERS.

Deputy Sheriff Hubbard Arrested on a Charge of Extortion.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Charles E. Hubbard, a special deputy sheriff, connected with the order of arrest department in the sheriff's office, was arrested this morning by Detective Sergeant Reilly on an indictment charging him with extortion. The prisoner was taken before Judge Fitzgerald in the general sessions court and placed under $2,000 bail.

Schweinforth, the Rockford Christ. Rockford, Ill., March 20.—Eight angels, or feminine believers in the Rockford Christ, came down to Schweinforth's heaven from St. Charles and a number of disciples arrived from Kansas City and other points. This week has been set for the believers in the Christ to meet in convention, receive his advice and blessing, and prepare to go out and convert the world. The first services begin to-morrow. The believers are growing in numbers remarkably fast, and the 10 per cent tithes, which their lord and master receives, make up a pretty neat sum monthly.

Even Railway Men Must Rest.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 20.—The senate has passed a bill providing that railway employees who have been on duty twenty-four consecutive hours shall not resume until they have had eight hours' rest. Twelve hours are to constitute a day's labor. The fine for violation is $50 in each case. The bill passed the House some time ago and now awaits the Governor's signature.

Arrest of a Forger.

CECIL RAPINS, Iowa, March 20.—W. F. Carlin was arrested here for passing a forged check for $500 on Berthelme Brothers & Co. He has also passed two bogus checks for $50 each at Anamosa. He has been engaged extensively in forgeries in this State.

Seven Killed by Redskins.

LOUISBURG, N. M., March 20.—Word was received here to-day that 700 Indians are out from San Carlos, and they have killed seven men on the Blue river in the northern part of this county. Nothing authentic can be learned of the matter.

Receiver for the Florida Southern.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 20.—The Florida Southern railway was yesterday placed in the hands of a receiver at the instance of the holders of the first mortgage bonds. J. R. Parrott was appointed receiver.

NOVELTIES IN LADIES' WEAR.

Yokes and guimpes of velvet go with velvet sleeves.

Jewelry, real and imitation, is more worn than ever.

Large-flowered and small pompadour flowered brocades are among the new silks.

Feather boas and stoles and triple capes of cloth will be much worn with wool gowns.

Many of the new silk petticoats are trimmed with flots of ribbon and cascades and ruffles of lace.

Small bonnets are worn on dressy occasions and in the evening larger ones and hats for street wear.

Tartans, Scotch colors in broad stripes, and bordered robes are the pronounced novelties in woolen stuffs.

Hellotro velvet slippers, with pink silk stockings, are a new fancy of those who like that sort of thing.

Narrow side panels of silk are sometimes introduced in the pleated or plain skirts of wool, tartan, or striped gowns.

Yellow jonquils and purple violets are favorite flowers for combination in corsage bouquets at the moment.

Home gowns for the early spring are made very simply, without bustles or loopings, and with a slight train in the back.

Spanish colors, Spanish styles, torreador hats, and red, black, and yellow millinery stuffs are features in spring fashions.

No bustles are worn, but the French gowns have very small cushions of hair under the pleats in the back of the skirts.

White cloth gowns, made in dressy styles, and braided with gold and silver, are now in favor for ball dresses here and abroad.

Birds, bees, butterflies, and other insects in the act of flight are embroidered in net and tinsel all across the bodices and skirts of new ball gowns.

Orange velvet borders, cuffs, collars, and waist-coats applique, with gold cord and throat embroideries, are favorite trimmings on white cloth dinner and evening gowns.

The fronts of many gowns of tartan, cheviot, and velvet are made of silk to match, forming a kind of draped tablier between the sides of the outer skirt of one of the other above mentioned materials.

Now silk petticoats, founced with lace and pinked-out ruffles, are the latest fad in underwear. These come in glaze, plaided and barred, striped and plain silks, and are "raking" at once with the girls of the "400s."

District Attorney Rossman Alleges that the Perrin Jury Was Corrupted.

Corrupted.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE FROM FIRE IN A COAL SHAFT.

The Imprisoned Victims, Overcome by Smoke, Are Unable to Escape—Other Disasters.

HURLEY, Wis., March 20.—Fire was discovered in No. 2 shaft at the third level in the Germania mine at midnight. The alarm was given immediately, but the most persistent efforts five of the men at work between the fifth and sixth levels and two strangers were cut off and there is no hope that they have escaped suffocation.

The names of the missing men, the bodies of two of whom have been taken out, are:

HUGH WALLER, pit boss. JAMES SULLIVAN, pumpman. T. THOMAS, miner, son of the above. An unknown Pole.

Waller escaped from the mine with about four hundred men when the first broke out, but returned to rescue others and was himself burned to death. The fire originated between the third and fourth levels, probably from the stub of a candle.

All efforts to extinguish the flames by water being unsuccessful, the shaft was covered up and an attempt will be made to smother the fire. The loss will reach far into the thousands and its extent can only be known when the mine is reopened.

The bodies of Thomas Thomas and his son have been recovered. Those of the others are still in the mine.

A FATAL COLLISION.

Two Passenger Trains on the Northwestern Come Together.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 20.—A collision between two passenger trains is reported on the Northwestern road at Lavalie, Wis. Several persons are reported to have been killed.

Chicago, March 19.—The following additional particulars in regard to the accident on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at Lavalie, Wis., were learned this city. Two passenger trains were ordered to meet at Lavalie. One was on the switch, or was switching; the engineer of the other thought the track clear.

A collision resulted. One lady, six gentlemen, and one little boy, all passengers, were injured. The little boy and one of the gentlemen were quite seriously hurt. None of the trainmen were injured. No names have yet been reported.

Following are the names of the injured:

A. WALECHKA, Owatonna, Minn., back hurt. JOHN SARDQUEST, Minneapolis, face badly cut. ARON ANDERSON, Minneapolis, spine hurt.

ERIC H. JARDEK, Pleasant Springs, Minn., 11 years old, skull fractured and ribs broken. WILLIAM M. MCKIM, Rochester, Minn., injured internally.

Mrs. JESSIE HUMOR, Pleasant Grove, Minn., nose broken and otherwise injured. DR. CARTER, arm hurt. W. D. THOMAS, arm bruised.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN A HORROR.

Two Men Hurt Yesterday at the Scene of the Indianapolis Fire.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 20.—About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the east wall of the Becker block, adjoining the burned Bon-Merill building, crashed down upon the ruins of Monday evening's fire. For a time the wildest rumors of disaster were afloat and before they were set at rest a large portion of the city's inhabitants had thronged into the adjacent streets and alleys. After a full investigation, however, it was learned that but two men had been hurt, though many had narrow escapes. The victims were but slightly injured.

WALKED OFF A TRESTLE.

Michael B. Kelly of Manson, Iowa, Killed and J. E. Mulroney Injured.

GALENA, Ill., March 20.—Michael B. Kelly, a prominent banker and stock-broker of Manson, Iowa, and John E. Mulroney, his brother-in-law, accidentally walked off an Illinois Central trestle at Council Hill in the dark, falling about sixty feet on to the rocks below. Kelly was instantly killed and Mulroney sustained injuries which, it is feared, may result fatally. Both men at the time of the accident were in charge of a train load of stock, which they were taking to the Chicago market.

JURY-BRIBING CHARGED.

Attorney Rossman Alleges That the Perrin Jury Was Corrupted.

ASHLAND, Wis., March 22.—The Perrin jury came in at noon and reported that they were unable to agree, being equally divided, six for acquittal and six for conviction. The jury was discharged and a new trial ordered. A change of venue will probably be taken to Milwaukee county.

District Attorney Rossman openly charges that at least two of the jury were bribed. He says that on the day the jurors were chosen Bailiff Boyd, at the request of a superior officer, allowed the jurymen to go to their homes and spend the night, and that two of them were corrupted by the defense.

The district attorney proposes to push a thorough investigation and says that he will implicate a number of prominent persons. Sheriff Cohen, Boyd's superior, has been suspended pending an investigation. He emphatically denies that he did anything with criminal intent, and says the whole affair is a scheme of Rossman's to kill him for the next nomination for sheriff. Perrin was rearrested on the charge of embezzlement on account of an error in the record.

Connors Defeats Danforth.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 20.—Prof. James Connors of the Buffalo Athletic club knocked out Tommy Danforth of Harlem in twenty-four rounds before the Young Men's Gymnastic club last night. The fight was for $850, of which $250 went to the loser. Wallace Johnson, a prominent member of the club, was referee.

Should Build a New Jail.

NEW CASTLE, Del., March 20.—Harison Rothwell, alias "Sugar Awful," one of the most notorious thieves in the State, has escaped from jail. This is the thirty-fourth escape from this jail during the year.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE.

Jessie White of Joliet Takes Her Life in a Dramatic Manner.

JOLIET, Ill., March 20.—A beautiful young lady, driving a handsome black horse hitched to a stylish-looking top-buggy, was noticed at an early hour last evening driving up and down Chicago street. Whenever she would meet acquaintances passing along the street she would smile at them and show her acknowledgment of salutes extended by young men passing at the time.

When opposite the opera house and near the entrance to the Hotel Monroe she was seen to rein up her horse and stop. She leaned forward and picked up a paste board box from the bottom of the buggy, opened it, took out a revolver, and with all the coolness possible and without any sign of excitement placed the muzzle against her left breast and fired.

She threw up her arms, and as she fell forward in the buggy the revolver dropped into the street. The horse, instead of being alarmed at the report of the revolver, turned toward the curbing and stopped directly in front of the entrance to a villain upon the opposite side of the street heard the report of the revolver, one of whom, John McGraw, rushed toward the buggy and was just in time to catch the young lady in his arms as she was about to pitch head first into the street. McGraw carried her hurried up-stairs and into the parlor of the Hotel Monroe, where she was deposited on a lounge.

A hasty examination was made, and it was found that she was shot directly through the heart, and after giving one or two gasps the suicide was dead.

Just the Miss Anna Bentz, daughter of the proprietor of the hotel, but sister of the proprietor, after giving one glance at the dead girl, exclaimed: "It is Jessie White!"

Miss Jessie White was the daughter of a well-known resident of Joliet, James S. White, and was a beautiful and attractive girl, about 19 years of age. For the past three years she has been torn by a nervous ailment, and has been in writing to her friends letters threatening her life and detaining her character.

The sounder has baffled all attempts to fasten the auto-ship, the letters upon him. The girl was finally sent away from home to escape him but his letters overtook her and she at last despaired of getting rid of the torture by any other mode than death. She left a letter telling why she took her life and giving full directions as to her funeral.

SNOW IN THE EAST.

Fiercest Storm of the Season in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 20.—One of the fiercest snow storms of the season is raging here to-day. The snow extends as far east as Harrisburg, and is the heaviest at Bedford, Pa.

Telegraphic communication is badly crippled. Damaging reports of heavy snowdrifts are coming in from all parts of the State, and railroad traffic is almost suspended.

NEW YORK, March 19.—It is showing heavily here. The weather is not cold and the snow is melting rapidly. The telegraph service in nearly all directions is reported badly interrupted, and business is subject to delay.

KILLED THE WRONG PERSON.

Nodak, Intending to Murder Sokoloski, Shoots the Latter's Daughter.

JOLIET, Ill., March 20.—A murder resulting from whiskey and an old grudge was committed at Bradford last night by Joseph Nodak, who shot and killed the 14-year-old daughter of his brother-in-law, Miss Stata Sokoloski, instead of his intended victim, her father.

Nodak, who was drunk, crept up to the window of Sokoloski's house, which is directly across the street from Nodak's, and fired through the window where he supposed his victim was sleeping, instantly killing his daughter. Nodak was brought to Joliet this morning and lodged in jail.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

Proceedings at the Special Meeting of the Common Council Last Evening.

YOUNG LADIES PETITION FOR THE GRADE OF A STREET.

Electric Lights Discussed—Official Reports—Routine and Miscellaneous Business.

A special meeting of the common council was held last evening at the council chamber, at which Mr. President Norris presided, all the aldermen answering to the roll call except Aldermen Horn, Casey, McLean and Thorngood.

The reading of the journal was dispensed with.

The clerk read the following petition: To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned, being daughters of tax-payers, residing on Hickory street, do appeal to you in regard to the condition of said street.

This street reminds one more of a country road than a street in the city of Janesville, as it has not a wide walk grade and pedestrians are compelled to "keep up the middle of the road."

It is no uncommon occurrence to find one's self stuck fast in the mud, while your companion is picking himself up, looking as he does, like a pig.

Therefore we appeal to you in your honor to investigate this matter, as we are young ladies of various occupations and are compelled to travel this street from four to six times daily. Although we are not tax-payers directly, some of us are the main support of our parents and therefore a greater portion of the tax paid by property holders on and in the vicinity of Hickory street are out of our hard earned salaries.

Again we appeal to Your Honor and to the common council to investigate this matter and to take steps toward the grading and sidewalk building of said street.

Very respectfully yours,

Anna R. C. Knippenberg,

Mary L. Centon,

Mary Clark,

Kate D. Cantillon,
